Introduction

We at Parliamentary and Administrative Research Institute (PARI) are firm believers in the adage that change is the only constant. PARI is on a mission to strengthen democracy with enhancing parliamentary literacy and we do it through the medium of excellent, high-quality capacity building domestic and international courses for officers of the Ministries/Departments, Autonomous Bodies, Public Sector Enterprises under the Government of India and State Legislative Assemblies and State governments etc. Our faculty is drawn from the Indian Parliament and Government of India. They are the best with a vast experience of 25-35 years in their fields. PARI has also forged collaborations with some of the most elite institutes and universities like the renowned DODS Training Institute in the United Kingdom and the prestigious University of Melbourne in Australia to train cohorts of Indian officials in different capacities, ranging from Public Policy to Public Health Policy, Mental Health System to Vigilance. In India PARI Training Institute has a collaboration with the National Institute of Securities Markets (NISM), a training entity of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), Mumbai.

We have had multiple batches enrolled for our training courses, both domestic and international since November 2017. But then, Covid-19 disturbed our schedule and our batches stand postponed particularly scheduled for London and Melbourne. So the management and the faculty at PARI decided to adapt and come up with a model to go for ONLINE mode with highly targeted, relevant courses.

We introduced our first ONLINE course in August and the response has been extremely encouraging. We have already conducted five successful batches in August and September 2020. Our first two courses on Parliamentary Procedures received the enthusiastic participation of 28 delegates from renowned Government Organisations and PSU's like Coal India, Indian Oil Corporation, AIIMS, NIRM, ALIMCO, IIFT among many others. Encouraged by the glowing feedback received we introduced two specialised, domain-specific workshops on Parliamentary Questions and Committees respectively and we were delighted to receive nominations and participation from 23 delegates from Organisations such as AIIMS, NCRB, and the Ministry of Coal. The delegations included senior officers who were pleased with the thorough nature of the workshops.

New Courses

We then introduced a course on Hospital Procurement Vigilance keeping the present scenario in mind where the Public health infrastructure is the only shield we have against this pandemic. The first batch was scheduled for 15-16 September 2020. We again saw participation from over 10 delegates from over AIIMS Deoghar, LGB Hospital Tezpur, Lady Hardinge Medical College & Smt. S. K. Hospital, and Institute of Post Graduate Medical Education, Kolkata.

Ethics and Values in Public Service

A Government servant's first and foremost duty is to serve the needs of the people and the Nation without prejudice or malice in his heart. Almost every government official be it the head of the organisation or working at various levels he/she comes across many instances in his/her line of duty which calls on him/her to exercise high moral judgment and adherence to certain codes of conduct. We at PARI wholeheartedly embrace the Central Government's initiative to invoke and imbibe principles of ethics and values into the administration of our Nation. We strive to further the Department of Personnel & Training's (DoPT) mission of spreading sound knowledge on Ethics and Values with the introduction of a two-day course on Ethics and Values in Public Service. We are hopeful that this course will act as an introduction and reckoner for a more ethical administrative structure.

These recent successes coupled with the Idea the Kramyogi Programme for Capacity Building proposed by our Prime Minister has reinforced our faith in the principle of lifelong and continuous learning. Thus, we have introduced a list of courses for the months of October and November 2020.:
