Strengthening Democracy

2 Days Offline Training Program on CONDUCTING DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS FOR GOOD GOVERNANCE

Tailored training program for HR officers/Executives working in Ministries/
Departments, Autonomous Bodies and PSEs under Central Government.

2 Day Offline Training Program on Conducting Disciplinary Proceedings for Good Governance

INTRODUCTION

In today's complex and dynamic organizational framework, administration and effective HR practices play a critical role. The human resource stands as the cornerstone of any organization, embodying its most valuable asset. It is through the utilization of this human capital that other resources within the organization are leveraged to fulfill its objectives. Whether referred to as the Personnel Department, P&IR, or by another name, the primary aim of the Human Resource Department remains consistent- to optimize the potential of the organization's human capital. To achieve this objective, the department encompasses various sub-systems, including Grievance Handling, Counseling, Performance Appraisal, Career Planning, Training & Development, and more.

This course aims at providing participants with comprehensive insights into the intricacies of HR management, focusing specifically on disciplinary procedures. There are a series of processes involved for conducting effective administrative practices. To deepen understanding of the same, its technicalities and practicality; Parliamentary and Administrative Research Institute (PARI) has come up with a tailored training program for HR officers to enrich their knowledge and aiding them to strengthen their practices in respective organizations.

JUSTIFICATION OF THE COURSE AND TRAINING

Disciplinary Proceedings in any organization require a unique set of competencies, including investigation techniques, legal knowledge, and conflict resolution skills. A specialized course like this one, aims to equip individuals with the expertise needed to excel in these areas. It is of utmost importance that these practices are imparted with great diligence and apt knowledge. Professionals involved in handling personnel and disciplinary cases need to have a deep understanding of relevant laws, regulations, and procedural requirements. Furthermore, the Mission Karmayogoi focuses on capacity building of civil servants to induce a mindset shift from being a mere "karmachari" to "karmayogi" and increase people-centric approach in bureaucracy to improve their efficiency and appraise/evaluate the employees based on organizational management techniques where leaders can reflect upon three types of constraints pertaining to employees' performance namely- motives, means and opportunity. With the visionary aim of Mission Karmayogi, PARI has come out with an effective course to aid the efforts taken by the Government of India.
