About the PROGRAMME

A Public Procurement course provides an overview of the process by which governments acquire goods, services, and works from the private sector. It aims to educate participants on the regulations, and procedures of public procurement, covering both theoretical and practical aspects. The course equips individuals with the knowledge and skills needed to effectively manage procurement processes in the public sector and autonomous institutions.

Procurement Officials in PSUs and Autonomous Bodies under the Central Government are routinely involved in high-stakes procurement decisions - often without adequate exposure to the legal, ethical, and strategic dimensions of modern procurement management.

PARI's Certificate Programme on Public Procurement is a rigorous, expert-led online course that equips participants with the knowledge and tools to navigate the procurement landscape with confidence, integrity, and strategic insight. The programme blends legal frameworks, real-world case studies, integrity management, and best practices into a 30-hour learning journey delivered over four focused weeks.
